

Don't Take Chances

It's a mistaken idea of economy if you deny yourself the satisfaction of having your suit made to order by expert tailors. Our tailored to measure suits are more economical than ready made suits; first, because the cost is no more, and, second, because a suit that is built to fit your body will wear better and look much better than a suit that is pressed, stiffened and padded into a "shape" that will hang on most anyone. Our garments are covered by a broad and daring guarantee that insures long life, permanent style, and the maximum of satisfaction. The coat fronts will not break, shoulders will not draw or pucker, collar will not sag in back, pockets will not sag, linings will wear a year. Each garment is built according to your defined measurements in the newest fabrics and our method saves you from $5.00 to $10.00 on a suit. Our line of samples is large enough to enable us to make 200,000 suits and have no two alike. Come in and make your selection now.

Our immense line of fine Shirtings made to order should interest you at $2.00 and $2.50.

ENTERTAINED ON THE ANNIVERSARY OF A WEDDING

(By Staff Correspondent.)

ORANGE, May 28.—Last evening a merry party was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy at 237 West Almond street, by Mrs. Cassidy and Mrs. Richard Wedge, in honor of their wedding anniversaries. The arch and dining room were beautifully decorated. Over the arch hung a huge white bell draped with ribbons of pink and white. On the dining room table stood a miniature couple, of dolls, dressed for the occasion, and above them among the flowers, was Cupid, master of ceremonies. The color scheme throughout the house was pink. Seven Sister roses with pink and white ribbons being effectively used.

Various games and music were indulged in, and a bountiful repast was served. All returned home in the wee small hours of the morning.

Those present were: Miss Myrtle Robinson, Miss Eva Fearn, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Harris and daughters, Lola and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Haines and daughters, Aliene and Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Calloway, Ernest Davis, Rudolph Kroener, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wedge and Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy.

The seventh and eighth grades of Glassell street school enjoyed a merry "weenie" bake gathering last evening at the home of Kathryn and Raymond Dyer in West Orange.

About thirty members of the classes were present and all enjoyed themselves greatly playing games and dining of all the good things that had been brought as refreshments.

The party lasted until a late hour.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

HYDROPLANE OF THE TYPE USED IN THE MEXICAN WAR BY AMERICAN TROOPS

Hydroplanes and aeroplanes will be commonly used by American troops if the war in Mexico goes to any length. Already several have before the guests departed for their homes.

A general good time was experienced last evening at the Eugene Livingston home on West La Veta avenue, where an informal social gathering was held.

The evening was spent with all kinds of merriment and at a late hour refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Stolp, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pohlmann, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Inalls, Mr. Arthur Boyd, Mrs. Louise Stolp, Mrs. Anna Cummings, Mrs. M. J. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Livingston.

The Royal Neighbors met for a business meeting yesterday afternoon, considering one application for membership, among other things.

At recess, a committee from the Modern Woodmen appeared with an invitation for the Royal Neighbors to join with them in a social evening. Accordingly arrangements were made for an open meeting for the Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen and their families, to be held on the second Monday in June.

The P.T. class of the First Christian church served supper at the church basement last evening, the feast having been prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society.

The proceeds of the supper, which attracted a large attendance, will go toward defraying the building expense of the P. T. log cabin. A subscription was also taken up for the furnishing of the cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Dalrymple of North Orange street, attended the installation of officers held last evening by the Knights Templar in Santa Ana.

The Waltham League field day will be held Saturday at the Orange County Park. Members of the local Concordia Society, who expect to attend the event have been notified to gather at the German Lutheran school at 7:30 Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Ehlen, Miss Bertha Ehlen and Miss Esther Batterman are spending several days on a motor trip to Banning.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen will hold their annual picnic outing at Balboa next Saturday. Basket lunches will accompany the crowd and a fine time is anticipated.

Fred A. Grote went to Los Angeles this morning to be present at an operation on his father, Henry Grote, at the California Hospital Dr. A. H. Domann and Dr. D. F. Royer were also in attendance at the operation.

Mrs. S. M. Craddock of North Grand street, left today for Sacramento to visit her brother, Prof. H. O. Williams and family, for a week or ten days.

Mrs. Esther Coons returned to her home in Colton Tuesday morning after a short visit with her uncle, Horace Lucy, and family, on North Glassell street. Howard Lucy accompanied her home for a short visit.

The Daughters of Veterans are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. A. D. Bishop Friday afternoon to make wreaths for Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Vandermast moved today from South Shaffer street into the Claypool residence at 227 North Cleveland street.

BALBOA DISCOVERY EXPOSITION GOES OVER TO APRIL 30

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The exposition to be held at Panama commemorating the discovery of the Pacific ocean by Balboa, will open November 2, next, and last until April 30, 1915, according to an announcement of the Pan-American Bureau yesterday.

It had been intended to have the opening on September 25, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific, but the postponement is designed to have the general operation of the canal figure in the ceremonies. Contributions for the monument to Balboa at Panama include Spain, $40,000; King Alfonso personally $10,000; Argentina, Chile and Uruguay, $5000 each; President Porras of Panama, $10,000; Cuba, $5000; Nicaragua and Guatemala, $2000 each and numerous lesser amounts.

50 FIREMEN OVERCOME IN $40,000 FIRE IN DETROIT

DETROIT, May 28.—Fifty firemen, overcome by smoke, were taken to the hospital from a fire threatening to destroy the union depot at daylight. Several of these are reported as in a serious condition this afternoon. The fire was controlled after doing $40,000 damage. The use of pulmotors undoubtedly saved many lives. There were thrilling rescues by firemen of their comrades lying unconscious in the building where they had been overcome by smoke.

REDLANDS ASKS FIXING OF GAS RATE FOR CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—The city of Redlands which has vested the control of her public utilities in the state railroad commission, filed a complaint today with the commission against the Citrus Belt Gas Company, asking the commission to fix rates which the company shall charge, and to order additions and extensions to the plant. It is set forth that an ordinance adopted by the city put into force a rate of $1.10 per thousand feet which became effective May 1st. Prior to that time the rate was $1.20. The company has served notice it would continue to charge the higher rate.

WIRELESS SEA SAFETY DEVICE TESTED TODAY

PARIS, May 28.—The automatic wireless apparatus invented by the French engineers Ducretet and Agor is being experimented upon from the Eiffel Tower today. The machine receives messages sent by the Morse code, registering them automatically on tape. The experiment has proved a success so far as tested, which is up to 500 kilometres. Such an apparatus would, it is said, add materially to the safety of ships at sea.

VERDICT IS GIVEN IN COURT MARTIAL

Will Be Kept Secret Until Gov. Ammons of Colorado Has Reviewed It

DENVER, May 28.—At today's session of the court martial on the military range near Golden, the court verdict to Judge Advocate Smith its verdict of last week's trial of the officers and men of the Colorado militia accused in their activities in the coal strike military zone.

Everyone connected with the court was bound to secrecy. The verdicts will not be made public until first reviewed by Governor Ammons. It is rumored, without confirmation, that the defendants are all acquitted of the criminal charges against them, but some of the officers are criticized for poor judgment shown at Ludlow. If acquittals are returned on criminal charges it is believed civil prosecutions will be barred.

Residents of this city ran into the streets terrified, but no property loss was suffered.

IS SANTA ANA SATISFIED?

The Evidence is Convincing; The Testimony Open to Investigation

Before a statement can be accepted here, it must be supported by local testimony—by the evidence of some one residing in Santa Ana. Statements from unknown people in remote places may be true, but we cannot prove them. Here is a statement by a Santa Ana resident:

William Thurstby, retired farmer, 417 E. Walnut St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Off and on for years my back and kidneys bothered me. To chop wood, or walk a little distance, made the dull ache in my back worse. Nights my rest was disturbed three or four times. Further evidence that my kidneys were disordered was shown by the kidney secretions. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. My back was soon in better shape than it had been for a long time. The kidney ailments were greatly relieved, too. My former endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills still hold good. I will always consider this remedy one that lives up to all the claims made for them."

PROSPECTIVE EL TORO RECTOR HIT WIFE

Admits Striking Woman—Was to Be Ordained Sunday; Is Scored by Judge

Rev. Duncan S. Merwin of San Pasqual and Allen streets, Pasadena, who also spells his name Mervynne, and who, according to report, is to be ordained Sunday in order to take charge of an Episcopal church in El Toro, yesterday admitted in the Superior Court that he had struck his wife, says the Los Angeles Times. Indignation boiled, then bubbled over in the breast of Judge Jackson. The scene was dramatic. Mrs. Merwin had been haled before the Lunacy Commission on a charge of insanity, sworn to by her husband. She testified that he had struck her. "Did you strike your wife?" asked Judge Jackson. "Yes," was the reply. After deliberating, Rev. Mr. Merwin explained: "She was going to compel me to get a divorce." "When?" sharply asked the court. "Six months ago—after she hit me." "Did you strike her more than once?" "Yes—a year before that." "Did you knock her down either time?" "I pushed her down." "You did that after you thought she was insane?" Anger was now struggling with judicial calmness. "Yes." Anger overflowed. "Do you know what you ought to do?" vehemently exclaimed the court. Without waiting for a reply, he went on: "You ought to take that garb off. The idea of a minister of the gospel who thought his wife was insane, to strike her." Judge Jackson stopped short for fear of the bitterness which strove to leap out on the head of the abashed pastor. He ordered Mrs. Merwin to Resthaven for thirty days to regain her health. Efforts last night to confirm the report that Merwin was to be ordained Sunday resulted in a refusal on the part of the clergy at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral to either deny or confirm the statement. Dean MacCormack is in San Francisco.

SCENIC FOREST IS TO BE PRESERVED

On May 13 President Wilson signed a bill authorizing the exchange of certain described private lands in the Sierra National Forest and the Yosemite Park for national forest lands, also described, of approximately equal value.

This is an outcome of negotiations between the Forest Service and the Madison Sugar Pine Company, started in August, 1913. The objects to be effected were, from the viewpoint of the public, twofold—to preserve a strip of uncut timber along the road from Wawona to the summit of Signal Peak and by so doing maintain this popular side trip as a scenic forest drive, and to secure clear title to the United States of the timber in several small logging units which eventually will be utilized in connection with the agricultural development of the foothill region adjoining.

The Forest Service appraised the values of the timber after a thorough cruise and study of the logging conditions on the ground. Approximately 2453 acres of company land will be traded for 2468 acres of government land. The company's land carries 119,875,000 board feet of timber worth $433,187; the government's, 121,757,000 board feet, worth $433,172.

2000 AUTOS IN STATES CARNIVAL ON JUNE 8

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—One of the largest automobile parades ever seen in Los Angeles will precede the opening of the Carnival of States June 8. Two thousand automobiles will be necessary to carry the representatives of the eighty-eight state organizations that total a membership of half a million.

The Long Beach Band of forty pieces will lead the big parade, and at least a dozen more bands will be distributed through the procession as every town within sixty-five miles of Los Angeles has been asked to send its local band.

Laborers who partook of the fluid, it was asserted here, soon exhibited symptoms of intoxication. Dozens who tried the water soon became hilarious.

"The water," the doctor explained, "surely has strange properties. Its effect quickly wore off, but while it lasted it was startling."

WILSON WINS IS FIGHT WITH LABOR

Compromise Reached in Anti-Trust Legislation That is Now Pending

WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Wilson has won in his fight with organized labor leaders. The anti-trust legislation to be enacted at this session will carry no exemption from prosecution for labor organizations which may violate laws against restraint of trade.

The president has consented that there shall be written into the Clayton trust bill a provision under which courts are to be prohibited from deciding that labor organizations or farmers' associations in themselves are condemned by the Sherman act or by subsequent trust legislation.

This compromise was accepted finally yesterday by representatives of labor organizations, including Congressman Lewis and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor. Forced to the conclusion that President Wilson under no conditions would give assent to their demand for full exemption from prosecution for their organizations and their acts, the labor men took all they could get and promised not to antagonize the bill.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Advertisement.

AMENDMENT TO FREE TOLLS BILL IS COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Senator Cummins of Iowa yesterday introduced an amendment to the pending toll repeal bill that offers a compromise which it is believed the administration cannot reject unless it is determined that the toll exemption shall be repealed regardless of the sentiment of the country and the manifest indisposition even of Democratic leaders to support the president.

The amendment of the Iowa senator would make it certain that foreign shipping would be required to pay only its proportional share of the cost of the upkeep of the canal and commits Congress to arbitration in the event of any dispute over the right of the United States to deal with its own shipping in its own way.

The basis for the ascertainment of tolls charged to domestic ships of commerce is to be their proportion of one-half the estimated cost of maintenance as provided in the case of foreign shipping and in no event to exceed sixty cents per registered tonnage, with a maximum of $125 per ton for foreign ships. Vessels of every description owned and operated by the United States are to pass through free of tolls. It will be noticed that in this proposal Senator Cummins makes no distinction between American coastwise and overseas shipping.

CONAN DOYLE SAYS WORM WILL TURN

Thinks Suffragette Lynching is Due—Ulster Will Do Much or Nothing at All

NEW YORK, May 28.—Sir Conan Doyle, the British novelist, accompanied by Lady Doyle, arrived in New York yesterday on the White Star liner Olympic.

In an interview Mr. Doyle said that England has stood all that it can from the militant suffragettes and that he expects a wholesale lynching bee.

"The English government," he said, "follows public opinion and thus far public opinion has not demanded the entire suppression of the suffragettes. But it is on the point of doing so, and when the English mob is thoroughly aroused it is not a respecter of sex."

When Mr. Doyle was informed that no general uprising had followed the recent passage of the Home Rule bill, he said:

"That is splendid, so far, so good. I tell you those men are not bluffing as you say. It will be so serious as to amount practically to civil war, or it will be nothing at all. These men of Ulster will never give in to the idea of an Irish Parliament."

ANAHEIM WANTS TO TEACH FARMING TO PUPILS

ANAHEIM, May 28.—To introduce an agricultural course into the senior year of the Anaheim High School has long been the desire of Prof. E. W. Hauck, principal of that institution. Under this head will come the study of various methods of irrigation for different soils; budding and culture of citrus and deciduous trees and the extermination of injurious insects. Realizing that such a course will offer special inducements to many students who would not otherwise feel able to take the high school work, Prof. Hauck presented the idea in full before the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and was assured of their hearty co-operation. Situated in the heart of the agricultural district, surrounded alike by fine groves and rich soils, the Anaheim students will be equipped to till the ground in a scientific manner, causing it to yield better crops, and keep high the standard already made by this vicinity.

GOOD MANNERS

Lord Rosebery is a fine example of an English gentleman. He is a former party leader, a scholar and an exponent of high ideals. Addressing some schoolboys at Guildford, he told them that the seventeenth century produced the greatest breed of Englishmen, and he coupled with this the statement that the seventeenth century set great store by good manners.

Good manners are today on the decline, he continued. Certainly too many persons somehow associate them with flabbiness of one order or another. Yet good manners are not only a sign of civility or charity toward fellowmen, but also an evidence of self-respect.

The Rosebery ideal is excellent. The man who is sure of himself is almost always courteous. It is the snob, the climber, the pretender, or at best the goat of circumstance, who confuses politeness with servility, rudeness with independence. "Despise not another who is as thou wast; be towards him as towards thy equal," counseled Patah-Hotep thirty-three hundred years before the birth of Christ.

The coward blusters, the man with a weak case raises his voice in argument. But the man with good manners is generally able to do without the more ignoble weapons in strife—even though he is the last one to avoid the fight worth fighting. "Manhood first, and then gentleness." Good manners are based on instinct or on education; they are more dependable when they rest on both these props.

"I think all good values run directly into manners," said Emerson. "Manners aim to facilitate life; they aid our dealing and conversation as a railway aids traveling."

He who prides himself on his boorishness has generally made the mistake of imagining good manners to be a veneer applied without.

OPPOSING JOHNSON

One aspirant for governor against Governor Johnson declares himself against "such legislation and regulation as is undermining business." The legislation and regulation he must mean, for he can mean no other, is that which has, for example, exposed the looting of the United Railroads of San Francisco by Patrick Calhoun to the amount of more than one million dollars. Under former political regimes, Calhoun would probably have gone un molested. He would have been protected when no legislation or regulation as would bring him to account were undertaken. Like all the others of the "Get Johnson" contingent of aspirants for governor, this particular candidate was at all times a warm champion of Calhoun.

Southern California also has a glittering example of what this candidate objects to. The legislation and regulation imposed by the Johnson administration would put a stop to such stock selling exploitations as were engaged in by the Los Angeles investment concern which collapsed some months ago and whose officials were confronted with criminal prosecution.

This candidate evidently would abolish the Railroad Commission, he would disapprove of the Blue Sky law, he would give away all the water power assets of the state regardless of the monopolistic schemes they might be engaged in. This is a reasonable conclusion from his statement.

Another candidate wants a "business administration" such as the state used to have. Does he mean to advocate a condition of affairs when the books of the state were never audited, when there was no such thing as the state's buying its supplies by means of competitive bids, when graft went undetected (witness the exposure of eighteen cases after the Johnson administration began its investigations), when places in the public service were given out as political rewards, and not through merit?

Another candidate joins with the Santa Barbara Republican conference and the San Jose Democratic conference in heartily endorsing all the legislation and regulation instituted under Governor Johnson, but attempting to deny him credit for it.

So goes the merry race, all of them fighting Gov. Johnson, but confused and bewildered as to method and argument.

JOHNSON'S STRENGTH WITH THE PEOPLE IS MANIFESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Governor Johnson is speaking in Southern California this week and he will return north next week by way of the coast counties, speaking at Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, and other points. He is having the same phenomenally successful meetings wherever he goes in the state. His strength with the people is manifested on every hand. He is still challenging his opponents in vain to name one single new law the repeal of which they will advocate, or to specify one commission which they would abolish. John M. Eshleman is accompanying the governor.

"Still we may have worse men in office than Hiram Johnson, and the state will get along pretty well if nobody beats him."—Colton Courier.

The Sacramento Bee says: "The big interests and the corrupt and corrupting influences generally of California have about given up hope of defeating Hiram W. Johnson for reelection to the governorship. "They will make a great show of battle thereon, but the din will be all the louder because of an attempt to conceal the thing for which they will be battling; the thing for which they already are laying out their plans and partitioning out their money, which will be spent in great loads. "Their object is to capture the next legislature, so that the hands of the governor shall be crippled. "An executive determined to carry along the splendid humanitarian, progressive, and systematic business policies inaugurated with his inauguration, and so far extremely successful, would be in large measure impotent if he be handicapped by a legislature determined to thwart him at every step."

Watch the Progress

Fresno Republican: We may assume, without expectation of contradiction, that anything that is progressive will be able to show, in operation, some progress. The question that will be asked of the present national administration, towards its close, will be what progress has been made. If this is to be considered a progressive administration, as its friends declare. Presumably, in spite of the declaration for a single term of office contained in the last national Democratic platform, the president will seek a reelection. That plank will go into the limbo of expediency along with the plank for free tolls for American coast shipping. If this is a progressive administration, it must be able to show, at the time of accounting for its stewardship, some real mark of progress in legislation. If anything has been accomplished, the showing should be easy. There is little difference of opinion as to what progressivism means. We are in a state of political and industrial unrest. It is claimed that there is too much wealth in the hands of a few, and that it is unearned wealth and wealth held contrary to good public policy. It is also claimed that there is too big a proportion of the population which has insufficient means of life, and that these are deserving people, willing to bear their share of the burden of life if given an opportunity; and that there is plenty of opportunity for them provided there be an economic adjustment of the means of earning a livelihood.

This is the socialist position. To it the standpaters reply that while it may be that there is some apparent wrong in the world, yet it is only in the extent to which the attempts to cure it will only make matters worse. They say that we have always had wrong in the world, but in spite of this fact, this is still a pretty good place to live, and that it will continue to be so provided only that we continue the scheme of government that has been handed down to us from our ancestors. The standpatter, denies any need of a social adjustment to correct the wrongs he finds exist. He thinks, because of the frailties of individual nature rather than from any wrong in the scheme of things. But, finally, the standpatter, while partly admitting and partly denying that there is anything wrong, put his emphasis upon the great danger of making any changes in the old order of things; what has worked well heretofore should not be changed lightly for the dangers of experiment. Thus he would have the state refuse to enter upon any readjustment whatever. The progressive occupies that middle position between these two views which, while being the Golden Mean, results in getting the ill will of both. He sees the wrongs that exist and sees them just as clearly as do the socialists, even though he does not base this knowledge on the fact that present conditions do not fit in with some preconceived notion of what the world should be. He knows that some things are wrong because they do not work well. He realizes that some fortunes are too large, not because of necessity all large fortunes are bad, but because these particular fortunes were wrongly obtained, and other fortunes are being badly used and against the rights of the rest of humanity. He would therefore be willing and ready to make any changes that the times show to be necessary, not deprecating change as such, but not rushing into any change until the need of it is shown. On the other hand, where there are wrongs existing, he would consider it the business of the state to go about as speedily as possible to find a cure for the evil.

If the present Democratic administration is progressive, not just marking time in office, it must be able to show four years' progress in definite steps toward cures for present industrial and political ills. There will be two opportunities for demonstration. First, this fall with the plea of the Democratic members of Congress for reelection; then two years from now, with the ticket the national Democratic convention will place before the people for approval. And as for the platform, one test of its value will be the extent to which the party carries out the platform presented to the people two years ago.

Historical Document

By Which Memorial Day Was Established

The following is a copy of that historical document that brought about the establishment of Memorial Day in honor of those who fought for the Union:

Headquarters Grand Army of the Republic

Washington, D. C., May 5, 1868.

General Orders No. 11.

The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet, church-yard in the land. In this observance no form or ceremony is prescribed, but Posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

We are organized, comrades, as our Regulations tell us, for the purpose, among other things, "of preserving and strengthening those kind and fraternal feelings which have brought together the soldiers, sailors and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion." What can add more to assure this result than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes? Their soldier lives were the revolve of freedom to a race in chains and their deaths a tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided Republic.

If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us.

Let us, then, at the time appointed, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us as a sacred charge upon the nation's gratitude; the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

It is the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this order, and lend its friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

Department Commanders will use every effort to make this order effective.

By command of
JOHN A. LOGAN,
Commander-in-Chief.

N. P. CHIPMAN, Adjutant-General.

2000 ACRES PLANTED TO BLACK-KEY BEANS

PUENTE, May 27.—There will be 2000 acres of black-eye beans in the Puente district this summer. The farmers have just finished planting, and the greater portion of this acreage is an intermediate crop between the young walnut trees.

Black-eye beans run from twelve to twenty-five sacks per acre, and the present estimate is that there will be about from 25,000 to 30,000 sacks, or from fifty to sixty carloads. At the price of $3.75 per sack, this will bring in from $75,000 to $90,000.

This is nearly double the crop and acreage over last year.

18 ACRES OF SPINELESS CACTUS AT COACHELLA

COACHELLA, May 27.—Great interest is being manifested in the eighteen-acre plantation of spineless cactus on the property of the Indio Land Company. A 98 per cent stand has been secured and the cactus is doing much better than was expected even. The plants are showing from three to fifteen slabs each.

Coachella Valley is declared to be well adapted to the culture of the new cactus, and it promises to revolutionize the feed question in the Southwest. The wonderfully fine growth that this field is making is said to assure the Coachella Valley of a valuable new industry.

Newport-Balboa Stage Line line will make trips on Sunday only, as follows:

Leave Santa Ana from Mateer's drug store 7, 9, 11 a. m., 1, 3, 5, 7 p. m. Leave Balboa 8, 10, a. m., 12 m., 2, 4, 6, 8 p. m. Extra Sunday leaves S. A. 9 p. m., leaves Balboa 11 p. m. Watch for one hour service. Santa Ana-Balboa, 50c one way, 75c round trip. On and after June 20 daily trips will be made as above.

LANGLEY MACHINE FLOWN TODAY BY GLENN CURTISS

BATH, Maine, May 28.—Aviator Glenn Curtiss successfully flew the late Prof. Langley's flying machine which heretofore has been regarded as a practical failure, although admittedly built along theoretically correct lines. Langley, whose father invented the heavier-than-air machines, died of disappointment recently. The machine was brought from the Smithsonian Institute for trial.

DECLINES TO FURTHER DISCUSS PROPOSAL TO ASK MORE ROAD BONDS

Board of Forestry, in a concise manner explained some of the work that has been done by the board, declaring that he would not favor taking out nice walnut trees along a roadside in order to put in ornamental trees. He thought nothing prettier than an unobstructed view of a walnut orchard. He said that in the trip to Los Angeles, the board had learned a great deal from the experience of Los Angeles.

T. E. Stephenson, secretary of the board, said that the State Highway Commission had indicated that it would grant a permit for tree planting on the state highway, and would cooperate, but would spend no money for tree planting.

Since he is on the forestry board, Bradford resigned as member of the Associated's tree committee, and H. H. Lake of Garden Grove was appointed in his place.

Go to San Bernardino September 9 was selected as the date for an auto trip by the Associated Chambers. On J. F. Ahlborn's suggestion, it was concluded to take the trip to San Bernardino to boost for good roads bonds there.

Everybody was invited to the Huntington Beach pier celebration June 23 and 24.

Gets Indorsement
Mr. J. McFadden, of Myford, Mr. Forbes and Dr. Hilton, representing Pomona College, explained that about forty pupils will attend the marine laboratory at Laguna Beach this summer. In getting the laboratory started, the Associated Chambers indorsed it. It was now asked to reaffirm the indorsement, and to go further—ask the Board of Supervisors to appropriate some money in establishing and maintaining a public aquarium at Laguna Beach. Dr. Hilton said that he thought it would take $2,000 for the establishment, and a man's salary to maintain it. McFadden's motion recommending the matter to the supervisors for an appropriation was carried.

Against the Law
C. C. Chapman of Fullerton declared that the proposed eight-hour law, an initiative measure to be voted upon next fall, is inimical to the interests of Orange county, and that if defeated country districts must do it. Brown of Fullerton said in his business the law would mean an increase of $3, 872.92 in the pay-roll.

A motion to have a committee appointed to agitate against the law carried.

Laid on Table
A communication from the Springdale Improvement Association asking that its secretary, C. E. Dixon, be indorsed for appointment as a captain of volunteers for Mexican service was laid on the table.

Chapman Explains
Ahlborn of Anaheim said his board of trade had protested against the recommendation of the San Fernando site of 200 acres for the state citrus fruit and walnut experimental station. C. C. Chapman, a member of the state committee that recommended the site, said that while he favored Riverside as a location, he could not help voting for the San Fernando site, which was given free. The Associated Chambers indorsed the movement to have the National Educational Association meet in California in 1915.

The next meeting will be held at Brea in June.

NATURAL GAS RATE CUT TO 7c PER 1000 CUBIC FT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—The California Natural Gas Company, a Standard Oil subsidiary, has been charging an unreasonable rate for natural gas to the West Side Gas Company of Taft and Maricopa, Kern county, according to a decision of the Railroad Commission yesterday. The rate was ordered lowered to 7 cents per thousand cubic feet.

KING'S CONTROLLER IS DENOUNCED IN COURT

LONDON, May 28.—Lord Saye and Sele, controller of the king's household, a direct descendant of one of the twenty-five barons entrusted with the enforcement by King John of the provisions of the Magna Charta, was yesterday made the subject of scathing rebuke by Justice Darling, when sentence was pronounced on the nine British army officers and eight civilians convicted of conspiracy to offer or accept bribes in connection with the allotment of army canteen contracts.

OXNARD PLANNING LIMA BEAN EXHIBIT AT FAIR

OXNARD, May 28.—Inquiries are being sent out to all lima-bean growers of Southern California by the Lima Bean Growers' Association regarding an exhibit of lima beans at the Panama Pacific Exposition. It is proposed that each grower contribute 1 cent per bag for each bag of beans grown, payable in cash or in beans at 5 cents a pound, to defray the expenses of the exhibit.

DELEGATES ARE NAMED FOR WORLD CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday approved resolutions for sending American delegates to the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce, Paris, June 8-10; the International Congress of Occupational Diseases, at Vienna, September, 1914; the Exposition of Sea Fisheries at Boulogne, France, June 15; the International Congress on Neurology at Bern, September 7, and the International Dental Congress in London, August 3.

JOHN D. INSTALLS CLOCK TO START HIS WORKMEN

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 28.—John D. Rockefeller has a new scheme to start all the men on his estate to work at the same time. On his new stable he installed a large town clock that strikes the hours and can be heard all over his 6000-acre estate and the men start on the minute and can quit on time. The clock stops striking at 10 o'clock at night and starts again at 6 o'clock in the morning.

HAPPILY SURPRISED

Misses Roberts and Miller Are Recipients of Pleasant Social Courtesy

Miss Grace Roberts and Miss Miller, who leave here soon on extended vacations, Miss Roberts going to the Orient and Miss Miller to Pennsylvania, were the honorees of a surprise party on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Nell Beisel, 202 South Birch street. Mrs. Beisel is the sister of Miss Roberts, and knowing of the affair planned for the two young women concerned, she had invited Miss Miller to be the dinner guest of herself and sister that evening. So cleverly contrived was the affair that neither of them suspected that anything "was doing" until the merry crowd walked into the Beisel home. So the surprise was complete.

The self-invited guests comprised Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rankin and the clerical and bookkeeping staff of Rankin's Dry Goods Store, where the honorees are valued members of the force. One of the diversions of the evening was a guessing contest in which Miss Miller received first prize, and Mrs. Rankin the consolation. An informal program following was most enjoyable. Those taking part were Miss West and Mrs. Emma Benedict with vocal solos, Miss Beecher and Miss Covington in a vocal duet, and Miss Whittaker, who gave "How a Woman Keeps a Secret" in pantomime. Mr. Rankin made a brief talk expressing the good wishes of all for the travelers-to-be, wishing them delightful trips with safe return. Dainty refreshments were then served.

In addition to Miss Roberts and Miss Miller there were present Mrs. and Mr. J. H. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Beisel, Mr. and Mrs. Fotheringham, Mr. and Mrs. Brinsendine; Misses West, Bowen, Annis, Lykke, Whittaker, Eastman, Beecker, Lawson, White; Mrs. Benedict, Mr. Buckles from the Rankin store. Other guests were Miss State, White, Covington, Annis.

Senior Class Play

Work on the senior class play is advancing rapidly under the able instruction of Mr. Phillips. The play to be given this year is "Strongheart," a typical and animated picture of college life, showing its many aspects and dealing with its different characters from a "Grind," played by Raymond Adkinson, to a "Crook," acted by Guy Pearson.

The leading character, Strongheart, a graduate of Carlisle University, who comes to Columbia to prepare himself to be the chief of his tribe, is ably taken by Bruce Wallace. Helen Roberts strongly interprets the part of Dorothy Nelson, with whom Strongheart is in love. Some of the other characters are "Billy" Saunders (Dix McNeil); Dick Livingston ("Bennie" Osterman); Molly, his sister (Corinne Burns); and Frank Nelson, Dorothy's brother and captain of the Columbia eleven (Arthur Fargher). In all there are about twenty in the cast and they are doing their best to make this one of the finest senior plays ever staged by the Santa Ana High School pupils.

Ebell Meeting on Friday

Because of Memorial Day falling on Saturday, May 30, the Ebell Society will hold its regular meeting on Friday, May 29, at the usual hour.

Daughters of Veterans

The Daughters of Veterans held a very interesting meeting Monday afternoon, although on account of sickness among the members, there was a small attendance. A number of veterans were present. Two new members were initiated; Mrs. W. E. Ward, a daughter, and Miss Ethel Ward, a granddaughter of a veteran. All daughters are asked to bring flowers to the G. A. R. Hall tomorrow.

On account of Decoration Day the students' recital to be given by a few of Mr. Gustlin's pupils will be postponed one week. Plan to come and bring your friends to this complimentary musicale Saturday, June 6, at 4:15 p.m., at the Conservatory, 504½ N. Main St. Sunset 214.

New President State Assembly of Rebekahs Given Happy Reception by Torosa

Mrs. Fannie Lacy, wife of Theo. Lacy, both well and favorably known as among the finest of Santa Ana citizens, was the central figure in a delightful reception tendered her last night by her home lodge, Torosa Rebekah, in honor of her recent election as president of the State Rebekah Assembly. Representatives from every lodge in the district were present in I.O.O.F. Hall, as well as several grand officers, including Miss May Reynolds of Los Angeles, conductor; Mrs. Sarah Flowers, chaplain; Miss Stella Merrick, past deputy president, and William R. Merrick, past deputy Grand Patriarch, the three latter of Long Beach. These were escorted by Mrs. Belle Buck to the rostrum, then Mrs. Lacy was escorted forward by Mrs. Leo Goepfer, and was given the honors. Mrs. Lacy was beautifully gowned in rich straw-colored crepe de chine, chignon trimmed, wearing pink roses. She carried a basket of lovely nasturtiums, a gift of the Noble Grand. Bouquets of beautiful flowers were lavished on Mrs. Lacy as she was greeted by her loyal Rebekahs. She made a touching address of appreciation of the tributes of affection that had been showered on her, including the handsome gifts sent to her during the Assembly.

After the address, Mrs. George Ford gave a reading, and Miss LaRue Phipps sang a pretty vocal number, both ladies having to respond to an encore. Later the company of 300 people were escorted to the banquet room where a most elaborate banquet was served under the direction of Mrs. Nellie Young, chairman of the banquet committee. Mrs. Ida Bishop was chairman of the committee on program. The banquet table and room were gorgeous with California poppies, and a bow of yellow satin ribbon decorated the chair for Mrs. Lacy at the head of the table. Immediately in front of her plate was a bouquet of pink roses in a crystal vase. Place cards bore the California poppy design, hand painted by Mrs. Davis. As the guests were seated, all joined in singing the Doxology. The entire affair was one of real pleasure, and genuine happiness was shown by all over the honor bestowed on Mrs. Lacy for her years of faithful and intelligent service.

The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 7—The Garden of Brides. The vengeful Umballah, having delivered his three bags of silver and secured Col. Hare as his prisoner, departs for the Palace of Allah, leaving Kathlyn and Bruce tied to the tiger cart with their backs to the savage beast and facing another death, at the hands of the brutal brigands. Hardly has Umballah got away before the turbulent members of the brigand band demand of the chief their share of the silver ransom on an equality basis. The chief refuses to do their bidding, simply tossing them one bag and reserving two for himself. This precipitates a bloody riot, and in the melee the mutinous members of the band release Kathlyn and Bruce from the tiger cart, and tie their own chief to the cart. The victorious fighters then rush into their cave to divide the spoils, the leader of the mutinous band next conceives a bright idea of liberating the tiger and allowing it to tear their late leader to pieces. The chief, however, manages to deftly slip his bonds and dart away into the jungle. The brigands, in the security of their cave, pull the rope of the cage door, the tiger dashes out, pursues the chief and eventually kills him. While the victorious thieves are looking to a furtherance of their selfish interests, Bruce and Kathlyn find two loaded rifles, and taking advantage of the brigands, bar up the entrance of the cave, leaving them prisoners, and making their own escape. They go forward to a little village where they are given shelter. Having recuperated there, Kathlyn decides that she must liberate her father, so they engage camels and retrace their trail to Allah. At the outskirts of the city they send a message to Ramabai and Pandita, requesting assistance and disbursements. The friends of the story being reunited, lay plans in train for the liberation of Col. Hare. Ramabai has already broached to the ambitious Umballah the idea of marrying Col. Hare, who has been forced upon the throne, to a native girl, which would further the nefarious plans of Umballah to a desirable culmination. The imposing coronation of Col. Hare, the pitiful scene of chaining him to his own throne, and giving him the empty honors of a potentate with the humiliations of a prisoner, serve a series of sensational scenes. Umballah has fallen in with the plan for the furtherance of his ambition, and greedily consents to the suggestion of Ramabai. Native girls, heavily veiled, are then paraded before the throne, and their choice is almost forced upon Col. Hare. Kathlyn has been disguised as one of these native girls, and when she discloses her features to her father, he at once recognizes some plan is afoot for his own deliverance, and elects her as his consort. Her viel drops and Umballah, who views the ceremony from a distance, is completely in the dark as to her identity. He goes to the treasure room of the palace, which is guarded by leopards, and secures the betrothal chain of pearls, but in his haste he leaves the outer gate of the treasure room open, and the leopards escape, rushing through the palace in different directions. The formal announcement of the wedding has hardly been made before the alarm is spread, and there is a mad scramble for safety. In the panic that ensues, Kathlyn becomes separated from her father and Ramabai, and hides in a covered cart in the Garden of Brides. In the interim, Bruce has prepared camels for the party to take flight to the coast, but when they assemble on the outside of the wall of the Garden of Brides, the party are woefully disconcerted on learning that Kathlyn is the only missing member of the outfit. They are fearful that the leopards may have overtaken her. (To be continued.)

Two-Part Comedy at the Lyric—"When the Girls Join the Force," is the title of a big two-part Nestor comedy, which is being presented at the Lyric Theater today, and judging from the many sunny smiles which appear on the faces of those who were fortunate enough to witness the matinee performance, a good rollicking crowd will witness the night entertainment. Mr. Knapp, the manager of the Lyric Theater, guarantees this comedy a regular grouch killer, and advises all "chronics" who have not had the pleasure of a good long laugh, to be present tonight and witness this hilarious greeting in two parts.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT LAW QUESTION IS AT ISSUE

Wells Says Nothing in Law
Requiring Operator's License

Justice Cox has a legal question to settle. It seems that a casual reading of the new state automobile law indicates that every owner of an automobile or motorcycle must have an operator's license. Van Wells, a motorcyclist, was arrested on a charge of operating a motorcycle without having an operator's license. Wells' uncle, of Huntington Beach, who practices law in the justice's courts, appeared for Wells, and contended that the state law does not require operator's licenses to be held by operators. It requires a hired chauffeur to have a license, and it gives the state the authority to issue operator's licenses, but Wells' attorney contends that nowhere is there any requirement that an operator of a machine, when that operator is not hired, shall have a license. It is up to Justice Cox.

No Prayer, But a Fine

Justice Cox could not marry A. G. Mannis, but he could fine him $10 for speeding his automobile. Some time ago Mannis was here and got a marriage license.

The girl insisted on two observances in her marriage. One was that a prayer be said at the ceremony and the other that the marriage be not at Santa Ana. She thought too many Santa Ana marriages turn out bad. The couple asked Justice Cox to perform the ceremony. He demurred on two grounds, one concerned the prayer and the other concerned his inability to leave Santa Ana to accommodate the couple. So he sent the couple to Orange, where Justice Fullerton married them. When it got right down to it, the Orange justice could not find a prayer book handy, and the couple decided to dispense with the prayer.

This morning Motorcycle Officer Davenport brought Mannis into Justice Cox's court on a charge of speeding an automobile on the Anaheim state road at thirty-seven miles an hour. Cox fined him $10. He couldn't get a marriage fee from Mannis, but he did get some money.

AGNES—In Santa Ana, May 27, 1914, George Agnes, at 614 Riverine avenue. —Funeral services will be held Friday, May 29, 1914, at 1:30 p.m., from Smith & Tuttle's chapel. Interment in Anaheim cemetery.

POST OFFICE AND STATION ARE BOTH NAMED IRVINE NOW

Hereafter when you want to send a letter to someone at Irvine you can address the letter to Irvine. Hitherto when you wanted to send such an epistle as that mentioned above you had to address it to Myford. Irvine is the name that the Santa Fe has given to its station on the San Joaquin ranch, owned by the Irvine Co., between Santa Ana and El Toro. When a postoffice was established in that section it was called Myford, the name of one of James Irvine's sons. Considerable confusion has resulted from the fact that the postoffice and station bore different names. Sometimes the village was spoken of as Myford and sometimes as Irvine, and neither designation was necessarily right nor necessarily wrong. On top of that, the school district and the voting precinct are called San Joaquin. However, it is not at all unusual for sections and voting precincts and school district to be known by different names. For instance, Randolph school district is at Brea.

Uncle Sam was asked to rename the postoffice at Irvine station. Uncle Sam has consented, and hereafter the postoffice is Irvine.

GIRL BURGLAR IS SOUGHT BY LOS ANGELES SLEUTHS

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—Private detectives are engaged today in a search for a girl burglar who looted the home of G. C. Cooper of jewelry worth several hundred dollars. Cooper has assured the detectives that the burglar is a girl because of the discovery, impaled on the screen of the window through which she escaped, of two bits of dainty lace apparently from a petticoat. Another evidence was that a bureau of clothes was ransacked and only the best lingerie and silk stockings were stolen.

AT THE COURTHOUSE DEED SECURED SUIT DROPPED

Needed Right-of-Way Near Buena Park Has Been Secured

A condemnation suit brought in the superior court by the district attorney's office may have had something to do with securing a deed for a strip of right-of-way a mile south of Buena Park. Unable to reach an agreement and get a deed, the county started the action entitled County of Orange against Samuel Milner. Since the complaint was filed, Milner has signed a deed, which was today turned over to the Board of Supervisors by Deputy District Attorney Eden, who immediately asked for and secured the dismissal of the action against Milner.

PAGEANT OPENS AT ST. LOUIS TODAY

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Thousands of persons gathered today in the natural amphitheater in Forest Park and witnessed the portrayal of the picturesque history of the City of St. Louis by seven thousand St. Louisians in what is said to be the largest pageant ever produced. The pageant and mask will be staged every day for the remainder of the month in order that all St. Louisians and the thousands of out-of-town visitors may see it. Its production next Sunday is for the benefit of those who cannot see it on work days.

Time and money was not spared in making it the most pretentious presentation of its kind ever attempted in the country. Percy MacKay and Thomas Wood Stevens, pageant masters, have devoted more than six months to the mammoth production. For the first time in years, the city became interested in its own history, and a movement was started to introduce a study of historic St. Louis in the schools.

The opening scene represents the site of St. Louis as seen from the Illinois shore with the water between the audience and the stage on which mound builders are constructing a mound. They are interrupted by the arrival of hunters, who display buffalo skins and call the men to the hunt. Despite the pleas of the priests the men left the mound unfinished and join the hunt, the women following. Next appear the Indians, who set up their own wigwags. Rumors of war stir the village and the corn dance changes to a war dance. The village is attacked and after being successfully defended the pipe of peace is smoked. In the distance appears the cavalcade of De Soto and his gold seekers of Spain of the sixteenth century. They set up a cross on the mound and return from whence they came, while the Indian life continues undisturbed. Then Joliet and Pierre Marquette pass down the river in their canoes, marking the coming of the French.

Situation in Mexico and Position of United States Naval Vessels

Much of the territory of Mexico is now held by the Constitutionalists. This year they have more than doubled the number of miles of control. Huerta is being pressed into his capital from the north by the men under Carranza and Villa, and from the south by Zapata.

Since the rebels took Tampico, San Luis Potosi remains the important place in the hands of Huerta. A battle there is predicted. He will make his fight there to protect Mexico City rather than at the gates of his capital. If he loses the Constitutionalists will have a clear road in.

FIRE DESTROYS MANSE AT TUSTIN

Rev. Blew and Family Lose
Practically All Their Personal Effects

NEIGHBORS PREVENT MUCH GREATER DAMAGE

Home Valued at $3000 and
Was Covered by $2000
Insurance

Fire last night completely destroyed the Presbyterian manse at Tustin. Rev. E. W. Blew and his family lost practically all their clothing and other personal effects. Their automobile was saved. It was only by the most heroic efforts on the part of neighbors that the flames were kept from destroying the barn in the rear of the parsonage.

The manse was valued at $3000 and was covered by $2000 insurance. The fire was discovered at 12:30, its origin being unknown. It is thought by those who first arrived on the scene that the flames were most violent near the cellar.

Fortunately there was no wind, otherwise the damage to surrounding homes would have been great, there being no fire-fighting facilities in Tustin.

Rev. and Mrs. Blew, their two children and Mrs. Blew's aunt are staying at the home of Charles Willard. Friends of the unfortunate family are providing them with clothing. Rev. Blew was able to save a part of his library. Sermons valued at $1500 were destroyed.

The manse was located on C street, Tustin, near Main.

ANDREE BALLOON BELIEVED TO BE FOUND

Remains of Airbag Discovered in Siberian Forest—Probe of Find Ordered

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 28.—What is believed to be the remains of the balloon in which Professor Salomon A. Andree ascended from Dane's Island, near Spitzbergen, July 11, 1897, in an attempt to reach the North Pole, have been found in a forest in Eastern Siberia, according to a telegram received at the Swedish foreign office yesterday from Yakutsk. Investigation of the reported discovery has been ordered by the government. The Arctic explorer was accompanied by two scientists, Messrs. Strindberg and Fraenkel. After leaving Dane's Island, no report was received from the party.

Andree had the hope when he left Dane's Island of being carried by trade winds to the North Pole. The explorer believed the steady current of air would take him into the polar regions in a week, carry him over the pole and land him safely in North America.

Five buoys from the balloon have been picked up. The first, found in Norway in June, 1899, contained a note from Andree that was thrown out eight hours after his departure. The "North Pole buoy," to be dropped when the pole was passed, was found empty off King Charles' Island in September, 1899. A third buoy, also empty, was found on the west coast of Iceland in July, 1900, and another was reported from Norway a month later. In September, 1912, a buoy marked "Andree's North Pole expedition, 1896, number 10 buoy," was picked up by the Norwegian steamer Beta, which arrived at Tromsø from Spitzbergen.

Many searching expeditions have returned unsuccessful.

WILL GO 20,000 MILES AFTER "TITLED" BIGAMIST

OAKLAND, May 27.—A trip of more than 20,000 miles will be taken by an Oakland police officer to bring to the bar of justice "Sir" Harry Westwood Cooper, who is wanted here to answer several charges, including bigamy. The city council has voted to send the police officer to South Africa for Cooper on the advice that the state would bear the expense.

LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF GENERAL PANCHO VILLA

This is the latest photograph taken of General Pancho Villa, ex-bandido, and now the foremost man in Mexico, except Huerta. The photograph was taken shortly after his victory at Torreon, which was the turning point of the rebellion. Since then Villa's power has become so great that he has overshadowed Carranza, who, however, still signs himself "Supreme Chief."

Villa has, according to his pictures, grown thinner than he was when he came prominently into public notice several months ago by his capture of Juarez. He has been working very hard in the field, and it seems to have told on him.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish

WASHINGTON, May 27.—There's a scramble on among several hundred Washingtonians today for rent-free houses during the summer months in the city's most exclusive residential districts. Few people outside of the capital realize that there are in this city scores of beautiful and costly homes which are turned over to caretakers, sometimes without rent, and with coal, gas and electric light bills paid. On some occasions even, caretakers are paid a nominal sum to live in the houses.

Now is the season when these caretakers are the busiest. Those who have had these positions in the past are the most active and they besiege almost daily the various real estate offices in the city. For this business is one of the hardest for real estate men to look after. In the first place they must be able to judge character on the jump and be able to pick men and women who would be capable and honest. Then after selecting the names of applicants the agents have to investigate their standing and trustworthiness. In the selection of the tenants widows almost have first choice. A good widow with children is always regarded as the best caretaker.

While the occupation of caretaker grew up originally when Washingtonians left the city for the summer it has extended to another branch now—that of furnished houses for sale or rent. For instance, if a public official who has lived here several years suddenly becomes a "lame duck" and moves "back to the farm," his Washington home is for sale. Often it is difficult to sell the place immediately or even to rent it. As a result a caretaker is selected. This party is given possession of the house but is required to keep it in tip-top condition and to show it to prospective buyers.

No public question in years has haunted congressmen like the proposed liquor prohibition amendment to the federal constitution. They take to task—every time they can find them—any member of the House judiciary committee for reporting out the Hobson amendment. It is becoming the customary sight in the lower body to see, any afternoon, groups of three or five representatives gathered around a committee man, protesting that the prohibition question should not have been brought out so boldly and put up to the members in a way that they cannot avoid being recorded.

Some members, of course, whose attitude on the question is well known, spare no pains in laughing at their "brothers in predicament." Representative Dies of Texas, struck that note in a debate in which he said: "I shall discuss Mexico, the Colorado strike, woman suffrage, and, if I have time, I shall take up national and international prohibition." Dies voiced the opinion of a large number of men, however, when he declared his belief that prohibition was a state question and should not be injected into national politics. When he made that statement in the House his additional remarks were drowned by applause.

Congressmen who are on the fence,

For Sale or Exchange

Last week I used this space to tell you about 100 acres of land in the San Joaquin Valley which I want to sell, told you why I want to sell, gave you a pretty fair description of it, said I would divide it and sell 40 or 60 acres, and would even take clear cottage property as part or all payment. Now there can't be much question about the real value of this land being more than $125.00 per acre and going considerably higher, land that is just about as level as a floor, easily worked and is now in crop, part of it with an estimated 20 sack crop of barley, part of it with a fine crop of sugar beets estimated at 20 tons, part of it in alfalfa, water stocked and only 1 1/4 miles from good little town with good schools, churches and modern conveniences, really a delightful home community. I don't know where you can equal it on this class of farming land. I will be glad to tell you about it. If you can't reach me by phone just drop me a line by mail, give your address and phone number. I also want to remind you that I have some vacant Valencia land near Villa Park which I will sell at about 1/2 of its value compared to neighboring prices and I think that about 3/4 of its value would buy by home place, 2220 North Main street. At some future date I may tell you a lot about a very desirable locality in San Luis Obispo county.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first full car of cantaloupes is expected to arrive on the local markets this morning, coming up from Imperial Valley. The price yesterday was $3.50 on pony crates, and $4.50 on standards.

The cherry market is very high, and it is quite possible that the quotations on black cherries will not drop below 7 cents, or even that low during the remainder of the season. Heavy rains in the Stockton and Sacramento valley producing sections have caused much spoilage of crops, and solid fruit yesterday morning sold at 10 cents. The cherries have been a disappointment this year, particularly Royal Annes.

The first local tomatoes were received yesterday morning from the foothill district near Sherman. The Imperial Valley tomatoes have been coming in for a few days, and the market has dropped to $1.75 per crate. Cucumbers are plentiful, and fine hothouse stock is selling at 60 to 65 cents. Outdoor cucumbers are much lower.

The market on staples was quiet. Egg receipts from the outside have been light during the past week.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

The Great Register of Orange County for the year 1914, as well as every other county in the State of California, is now being compiled. All voters who expect to participate in the general election to be held in November, 1914, and in the primary election to be held in August, 1914, must register. Registration closes for the primary election on July 25, 1914, and for the general election on October 5, 1914.

W. B. WILLIAMS, County Clerk.

PROPOSALS FOR SCHOOL BONDS

Sealed proposals for the purchase of school bonds in the sum of Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars of Westminster School District, California, will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Orange County up to 11 a. m. of Wednesday, June 3, 1914. Each of said bonds shall be dated July 1, 1914, and shall bear interest at the rate of five (5%) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; said principal and interest to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of Orange County, California. Said bonds are fifteen (15) in number of the sum of $1,000.00 dollars each, payable as follows, to-wit:

Bond No. 1, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1915;
Bond No. 2, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1916;
Bond No. 3, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1917;
Bond No. 4, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1918;
Bond No. 5, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1919;
Bond No. 6, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1920;
Bond No. 7, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1921;
Bond No. 8, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1922;
Bond No. 9, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1923;
Bond No. 10, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1924;
Bond No. 11, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1925;
Bond No. 12, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1926;
Bond No. 13, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1927;
Bond No. 14, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1928;
Bond No. 15, $1,000.00, payable July 1, 1929.

The bonds will be sold for cash only and not less than par and accrued interest. The purposes for which said bonds were voted and are for the purpose of raising money for purchasing school buildings in the sum of three per cent of the amount of said bonds or of the portion thereof bid, must accompany each bid. Said Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The total valuation of taxable property within the Westminster School District in said county for the year 1913 is $551,090.00, exclusive of operative property, and the outstanding bonded indebtedness is none.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of Orange County, California, made May 18, 1914.

W. B. WILLIAMS, County Clerk and Ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

GRAIN CROP TO BE RECORD BREAKER

Nearly 50 Per Cent More Yield
Expected Than Last Year

Prices Are Now Low But Grain
Men Think They Will Advance

FRESNO, May 27.—The grain crop of the San Joaquin Valley will be fully 50 per cent larger than last year, according to recent estimates. In practically every section of the valley, big yields are expected. The acreage this year is between 30 and 40 per cent greater than last year. Rain at opportune times developed the crop in excellent shape and this accounts for a greater increase in the yield than would be indicated by the increase in acreage.

Men who have long been engaged in the grain business in the valley assert that the crops now look better than they have for many years and a big harvest is anticipated, unless rain should come. Rain at this time would beat the grain to the ground and cause a great deal of damage.

While the crop prospects are excellent, prices have fallen considerably

THREE HUERTA MEMBERS OF THE MEXICAN MEDIATION CONFERENCE

Emilio Rabasa

Augustin Rodriguez

Rafael Elguero

The three members of the Mexican peace conference appointed by General Huerta of Mexico enjoyed themselves in Washington and New York for several days before they went on to the meeting place in the and various reasons are assigned. To those of a Republican turn of mind, the tariff is advanced as one of the reasons. With the removal of this tariff they assert that Canadian wheat is able to compete in the East. Oregon and Washington grain which formerly was shipped East, is now being diverted to California, they declare, and as a result of low quotations on this grain, the price of California grown grain has fallen.

Barley is the principal grain grown in this valley and the price to the grain farmers is now about 90 cents per cental. The price of wheat is about $1.25.

Notwithstanding the fact that the price has taken a material drop, the more hopeful of the grain people do not expect that low prices will prevail all season but anticipate an advance by early fall.

New wheat from Washington and Oregon is being quoted at San Francisco and Los Angeles at $1.40, delivered, while 1913 wheat is being quoted now in these same markets at $1.75 delivered.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Roses to Adorn Home Ground

(From Department of Agriculture)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27.—Roses, when used for decorative purposes on the home grounds, serve to set off a fine lawn, and improve the appearance of a place not only during the blooming time, but throughout the year. Most of the varieties that are used as shrubs have a foliage of lighter appearance than the majority of other bushes used for similar adornment, and they are, therefore, placed preferably in front of the other plants. This will result in a pleasing contrast between the shades of green. They also contrast attractively with a greensward if placed close by the edge of the lawn. Roses used in this manner should be planted in comparatively large masses.

Roses which are grown mainly for bush or mass effect should be sparingly pruned, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's landscape gardener. They should be permitted to run wild instead of being pruned into any form, and only dead wood or very old wood should be removed when they are pruned. Of the various species of roses used to beautify lawns, the most prominent are Rosa rugosa ("rugosa" referring to the rough foliage of the rose) and the common wild roses of the roadsides and thickets in the different sections of the United States.

Most of the roses used for mass effects have only single or almost single blooms. The bloom, however, is a comparatively insignificant feature of the decorative value of these roses. An even more attractive feature is the "hip" of the rose. The "hip" is the bright red tip of the stem which enlarges to hold the seeds of the plant and remains a brilliant color during the winter, thus adding much to the attractiveness of the bush at a time when most shrubbery is leafless and bare.

To Secure Maximum Bloom of "Cut-Flower" Roses
From a cultural standpoint roses are divided into three main classes: Those grown for bush or mass effect; those grown for cut flowers, and those that climb trellises and porches. Those that are grown mainly for the individual blooms which are to be taken from them must be treated in a very different manner from the roses used for bush effect as described above. A still different treatment must be given to the climbing roses. Roses that are grown for the cut flowers should be in a secluded location, as their main purpose is to supply blossoms for decorative purposes within the home, and it is therefore desirable to produce as many fine individual flowers as possible, without considering the appearance of the plant as a bush. To secure this maximum bloom, the Department's landscape gardener advises that the plants be pruned thoroughly. When a rose is ready for cutting, the whole stem on which it has grown should be cut with it. This means nothing should be left of this year's growth, except two good "eyes" at the base of the stalk. The "eyes" (buds) are the points from which new shoots will start and may be seen at the base of the leaf stalks.

This treatment will seem extreme to many who are used to growing roses for a large portion of the bush. In fact, when a crop of roses has been cut, the bush may not be much higher than it was in the early spring after the proper spring pruning has been done; i. e. not more than six inches high. New shoots, however, will push forth immediately and the vigor of the whole plant will pass into them, and in the case of a number of varieties of roses, another crop of flowers a few weeks later will be the result.

Everything in the treatment of a "cut-flower" bush must be sacrificed to the production of a fine individual blossom. When two or three rose buds form on a single shoot all but one should be pinched off as soon as they are observed. The moment the individual rose is cut the whole stem should be cut away as described, even though other buds are on the point of starting farther down on the stem.

Tea Roses in December
In Washington, D. C. tea and hybrid roses have been kept blooming continually from June into December by continual cuttings of this extreme character. Eight bushes of these roses served to keep flowers in one home continually for more than half the year. These varieties of roses, if not cut down, will not be likely to bear many more blossoms after the June crop. If they are cut down as described, there will be a wealth of roses in June, then a brief period with no flowers, then a few blossoms at a time all the rest of the year.

The varieties of roses known as hybrid perpetuals, which are popular roses for cut flowers, do not respond so freely. However, the extreme cutting treatment is the only way by which it is possible to get a second crop of blossoms from these roses, although even that is not always successful.

An explanation of treatment for climbing roses is more appropriate for a later date when the June crop is over, and a description of the proper treatment will be given in this series at that time.

FRUIT GROWERS'

CONVENTION TO BE HELD JUNE 1 TO 6

The California Fruit Growers will meet in convention at the University Farm at Davis June 1 to 6.

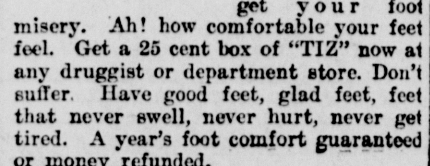

The University of California has received word that the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads have authorized a convention rate of a fare and one-third on the certificate plan, purchaser buying a one-way ticket to Davis and securing a receipt, which, when signed at the University Farm, will entitle the holder to a return trip at one-third fare.

The program for the week includes 130 different speakers, many of whom are America's greatest authorities on horticultural subjects. They come from many states. This gathering of fruit-growers is entirely unlike anything that has ever been held in California, or for that matter, any state in the union. Every man or woman who is interested in the growing of any kind of fruits, the university believes should make it a business to be present at least a few days. Those who wish to come in automobiles will find parking space available. Any who may wish to bring camping equipment and provide their own sleeping quarters will be afforded space free of charge. Meals can be secured in the college dining hall.

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel. Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

Gasoline
of

—a product of selected grades of California crude oil, distilled and re-distilled, treated for the elimination of all foreign matter and by means of exhaustive laboratory tests, maintained at the most rigid standards of uniformity and high quality—in short, the best gasoline the Standard Oil Company can make.

Red Crown signs are furnished to all dealers handling Red Crown Gasoline. Watch for the Sign or ask our nearest agency about delivery in bulk.
